HTML Reference

Element	Purpose
`<h1> ... <h6>`	Headings, from the main heading to more deeply nested subheadings
``	A paragraph
`<ul>`	An unordered, bulleted list
`<ol>`	An ordered, numbered list
`<li>`	One item inside a list
``	Important text, normally displayed in bold
``	Emphasized text, normally displayed in italics
``	A container that groups other elements
``	A link; `href` supplies its destination
`<img>`	An image; a void element with `src` and `alt` attributes
`<html>`	The outer element containing the document
`<head>`	Information about the page
`<title>`	The page title shown in the browser tab
`<meta>`	Page information such as text encoding; a void element
`<body>`	The page content displayed in the browser window

Attributes

Attribute	Used on	Purpose
`href`	``	Destination of a link
`src`	`<img>`	Location of an image file
`alt`	`<img>`	Text describing the image's information
`lang`	`<html>`	Language of the page, such as `en` for English
`charset`	`<meta>`	Text encoding, which we set to `utf-8`